December 2010

Club News, Rumors, and Lies.

The end of the year has come upon us already. Where has this year gone? We ask that every December and the answer is always you are a year older, funny, right? And I don't mean funny Ha Ha. It is time for the annual Renegade Christmas Party on Saturday, December 11. This year it is being hosed, uh I mean hosted by Ken Matlock. We all know what that means. Nobody goes home hungry. If you have not been to Ken's house the address is 2611 Amhurst. Show up at 7:00 pm and join in on the festivities. This year there will be a $20 Chinese Gift Exchange. Now that does not mean you are required to go to Family Dollar and look for something made in China. You can be nice or naughty, just make sure that you bring something that you could take home to Mama. Also don' forget the Hangover Shoot is Sunday, December 12.

We are halfway through the shooting season and the race is on for the aggregate totals. As of this time the leaders are: Percussion, Angie Cantrell with 208; Flintlock, Mark Camp with 152 X; Musket, Danny Cantrel with 159; Bench, Gary Watson with 245 XX; H/G Pistol, Brian Ghent with 213 XX; H/G Revolver, David Anderson with 49; Ladies, Angie Cantrell with 271; Graybeard, Charles coker with 38; Sub-Junior, Trenten Cantrell with 144; and Smoothbore, Wayne Lawless with 163 X.. Just a reminder for those interested in the trophy, you must turn in all targets to add to annual aggregate scores even if it is a zero.

I was surfing the net the other day looking for a source of information for my latest gun on the work bench. I ran across a couple of really good chat rooms. Don't worry, they do not have XXX in the title and do not charge your credit card to an off shore account. They are: Traditional Muzzle Loading Forum (muzzleloadingforum.com) and the American Long Rifles (americanlongrifles.com). Both are really good places to go to exchange information and talk with like minded folks. Both web sites will entertain requests from beginners and old timers alike. The only thing better would be kicked back in a chair around a wood burning stove sipping the stuff that sips really well while exchanging ideas, exaggerations, wish it could have beens, and downright lies.

We have another new club member, David Watson, Gary's brother. We always look for new members and welcome them. Are we working on another family ribbon winning dynasty? Check out the percussion scores. Good to have you.

Roundball Roundup.

We only had seven registered shooters for the November shoot. Not a big turnout but we have had less at other shoots. Everyone who registered won a ribbon. I guess there was too much turkey and football over Thanksgiving. Turkey is understandable but football? Nonetheless here are the current standings.

A Fairy Tale Fable by Karl Childers

I recon I'm gonna tell you about a town that was good off and had a lot of jobs and good paychecks. They had their own places to live. Whenever they was hungry they'd go down to the corner and get some cans of Hargrave's Potted Meat and taters. This was good eating cause it has been made with peckers and lips since 1933. Now most all them folks in town worked at the lawnmower shop fixin' carburetors, cleanin' out gas tanks, sharpinin' blades, and what not. Some folks say the owner of the lawnmower shop was prosperous. I just say he was a smart businessman and made a lot of jobs for them fellers. Mmmmm.

Now it was time for them people to elect a new town boss man. Most folks called him the mayor. I call him the village idiot. Mmmmm. Well this slick talkin' man shows up and said his name was Bomama and to never mind where he come from. He gets them all riled up and gets them to thinkin' that owner has too much money and they don't have enough. I recon some fella named Karl Marx done figured that out for him. He gets them workers to yellin', "We can gitter done, we can gitter done." They thought it was mighty fine this Bomama punished that rich man for having money. They was happy, and laughing like, and blowing snot bubbles off their noses.

Now this Bomama fella, he takes the man's money but keeps it all for hisself. Well what done happened next was pure ugly. Mmmmm. The lawnmower man didn't have no money anymore to pay the folks. Mmmmm. Well he had to move across this big old river where he could make money again and hire some different folks to fix lawnmowers. Them folks in town didn't have no jobs no more. Now that Bomama fells says this is called outsourcing but that don't matter because wasn't it such a good thing that he took all that rich man's money. Mmmmm. Well there wasn't no more rich guys to take money from because this Bomama fella had took their money too.

Pretty soon all them folks didn't have no money to stay in their houses or buy potted meat to eat. They was yelling, "What'd kill my job fer! What'd kill my job fer!" Well this Bomama fella he says, "Don't worry, now that I took all the rich man's money you will have to depend on me. I'll give you everything you need. You can stay for free in the shed out back and I'll give you biscuits and mustard to eat. I'll give you this bottle of liniment if you cut your finger." Well that village idiot couldn't even give them that bottle of liniment because he spent all the money travelin' way far off all the time to fancy places. But it didn't matter no how. Mmmmm. Nobody had a job in the lawnmower shop anymore so nobody cut their finger sharpinin' them lawnmower blades nowhow. That's about all there is to tell you about this town. Mighty sad. Real sad. Just weren't right. Mmmmm.

Now this here fairy tale fable has a moral. Yessir. You get everyone ridin' on top the wagon and nobody pushin' the wagon, that there wagon ain't gonna go nowhere. So last November them folks in that town started looking for a new village idiot and get them lazy folks off the wagon and start pushin' again. That's the end of this story so you go to bed now.

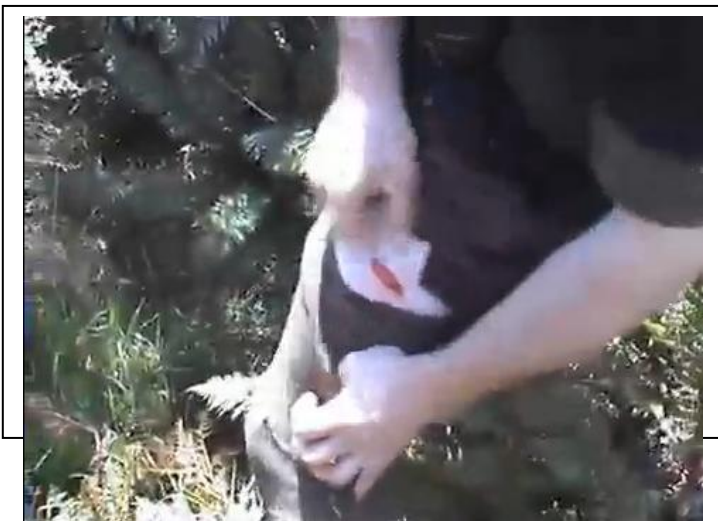

Quote to Remember. Army Special Forces sniper, "You can run but you will just die tired."

Thought for the day.

- Experience: It enables you to recognize a mistake.
- Insanity: Doing the same thing repeatedly expecting a different result.
- Proof: Lyndon Johnson, Richard Nixon, Jimmy Carter, Bill Clinton, Barrack Obama.

Safety or Sorry.

Who knows anything about hog hunting in Texas? Here are two different hombres that learned where the term hog wild came from. The first fella got to get first hand knowledge how fast those little porkers can go. He made a good shot and the hog charged him and like a rocket sled on rails, missing him by inches. Now the second one must have been auditioning for Jackass the Movie. He thought it would be sporting to bulldog a hog by the ears. Come to find out, the hog didn't think much of the idea and sliced his leg pretty good. He's lucky the hog didn't stay and play and just wanted to be left alone.
